

Chica China en Quito

Newsletter – Oct'14

Hola amigos!

So happy to be finally back in Quito. ☺
Thank God for bringing me back safely, with no missed flights.

Obviously, it is a slight readjustment to be back where everyone looks at me and think “chinita!” (Chinese girl), but I am definitely glad to see the familiar faces of my host family, colleagues and friends here.

3-5 Oct we had the Latin Link Ecuador team conference. It was a time for us to have a team to have a retreat together and we had some great devotionals on miracles. God definitely reminded me to focus more on Him, and that He will make things work.

Unlike last September, I did not have to spend time adapting to the culture and the language. It was wonderful being able to get straight to work the second day I landed.

Chinese Church

There was a break in Chinese church gatherings during the summer because many Chinese had to look after their kids.

The church is still very young. Pray for clear guidance on how it could serve the people best. Many who showed interest before the summer have now moved to other cities, so it could feel like a lot of work has to be done all over again.

Pray for the HK couple who founded and run the church, that God continues to strengthen them.

Miss Mediocre & Mr Purpose for our Values classes

Unión Bíblica

As mentioned, I am continuing with teaching Values with Unión Bíblica Ecuador this year.

One small primary school where we taught last year closed down. Pray that the kids were able to get into other schools close by. This, however, opened up to the opportunity of teaching in another similar-sized school. Pray for fruitful relationships with these students and the teachers.

We will also begin to teach in a new secondary school, with has 3000 students. They are known to be ‘problematic’ and many take drugs. Pray for much wisdom in class, that our words may be seasoned with salt, yet not hiding the Good News.

Unión Bíblica is struggling a bit financially this year. Please pray that God provides what we need – dedicated volunteers and budget.

Miraculous Provision

Finance was one of my biggest worries before coming back to Ecuador, but I have been provided for in the most unexpected way the day just before I flew.

It is definitely a reminder that God always provides all we need, at just the perfect timing.

With the regular support in the coming months, I will have sufficient for my basic needs (transport and accommodation) in Quito. Therefore, any extra donations from now on, I will donate them to Union Bíblica Ecuador, unless otherwise specified. If you would like to support, please follow this link.
